DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claim 30 is objected to because of the following informalities: on line 2, "extending between" should be "having" since the rod has one end and does not apparently extend between one end as currently recited. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 14-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Graf (6,030,027).

Graf discloses the claimed invention including a windscreen deflector assembly for an automotive vehicle comprising a flexible membrane element 3, an upper cross member 1 and a lower cross member 6. The first and second cross members have a retracted position (Figs 1-2) and a use position (Figs 3-4). In the use position, the flexible membrane element extends between the cross members to form a generally upright windscreen portion and extends between the lower cross member 6 and the rear end of the passenger compartment to form a generally horizontal cover portion covering the rear seats of the compartment.

4. Claims 14-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(c) as being anticipated by Gloss (6,554,349).

Gloss discloses the claimed invention including a windscreen deflector assembly 1 for an automotive vehicle comprising a flexible membrane element 4, an upper cross member 3 and a lower cross member 16. The first and second cross members have a retracted position (Figure 2) and a use position (Figure 1). In the use position, the flexible membrane element extends between the cross members to form a generally upright windscreen portion and extends between the lower cross member 16 and the rear end of the passenger compartment to form a generally horizontal cover portion covering the rear seats of the compartment.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 1, 6-13, 19, 23-29, 31 are allowed.
6. Claim 18 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
7. Claim 30 is objected to as containing a minor informality, but would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the informality.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments filed 12/3/08 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. With regard to claims 14-18, the rejection set forth in the previous action is hereby maintained. The changes made to claim 14 do not obviate the art rejection(s).

Conclusion

9. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
